

All about going green at the county fair

Aug 2, 2017

The Perry County Waste Reduction and Recycling expressed appreciation to everyone who reduced their wasteful habits and recycled properly this year at the Perry County Fair. This is the second year HAPCAP (Hocking Athens Perry Community Action Program) offered the services of their summer youth workers to help recycle and pick up litter at the fair. Ashley Carter, and Marissa Booher, were two of the many HAPCAP summer youth workers who helped make recycling happen at the Perry County Fair this year. "This is an awesome service, which helps divert hundreds of pounds of recyclables from going to the landfill! We can help sustain this service for years to come with conscientious recycling. Which means—empty liquids before placing in recycle bin, remove and discard caps, breakdown cardboard boxes to save space. PerCo Recycling places roll off recycling containers on the fairgrounds to help encourage recycling during the fair. This year's theme with 4-H was "Green." KUDOS to OUS Extension and all 4-H Clubs for their creative "Green Perspective" displays reminding us to live gently on the Earth.
